TO: REGIONAL CENTER EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

SUBJECT: Appearance of Attorneys in the Appeal Process

The State's budget trailer bill for developmental services, SB 188 (Chapter 49, Statutes of 2022) adds Section 4705.5 to the Welfare and Institutions (W&I) Code, effective October 1, 2022. This new section makes changes to when attorneys can appear in informal meetings, mediations, and fair hearings. Section 84 of SB 188 also provides authority for implementation of specific provisions pursuant to written directives from the Department.

Effective October 1, 2022, this new law prohibits regional centers and the Department from having an attorney attend an informal meeting, mediation, or fair hearing, unless the claimant is an attorney licensed to practice law in California, or will have an attorney licensed to practice law in California in attendance.

Effective October 1, 2022, if the claimant or their authorized representative intends to have an attorney attend a mediation or a fair hearing, then the claimant or their authorized representative must provide notification to the regional center and the hearing office of that fact at least five (5) calendar days prior to mediation, and fifteen (15) calendar days prior to a fair hearing.

Effective October 1, 2022, the hearing office shall notify the parties, in advance of a fair hearing, that the hearing officer is allowing an attorney to attend in the interest of justice.

Regional centers shall adjust their internal procedures and practices to comply with the statute by October 1, 2022. All appeal process informational materials provided by a regional center shall be updated accordingly, no later than September 30, 2022.

These statutory changes do not prohibit a claimant's attorney from assisting in such matters, even if they do not appear. Similarly, a regional center attorney or a Department attorney may assist in such matters. They may not appear, except as described above.
